High pilot fees may kill shipping

(Second in a four part series)

MONTREAL-It costs a lot of money to take a Great Lakes pilot for a boat ride, according to shipping officials in Canada.

And, the consumers, both big and small are the ones who get stuck with the bill.

That's pretty much the way, shipping officials describe the requirement of having to have a pilot on board their ships in most of the waters of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Great Lakes.

To back up their case, they point to the following —Pilotage charges for a round trip through the Great Lakes from Montreal which can tack almost $10,000 to the cost of the voyage.

Threats of labor boycotts if pilotage fees are not paid in areas where a pilot's services are not needed

-Work stoppages which can tie up international trade in the Great Lakes from one end to the other -A joint U.S.-Canadian requirement that a pilot be on board in the open waters of the Great Lakes

THE PILOTAGE requirement assumes that the skippers of foreign ocean-going ships lack the knowledge of the hazards of Seaway and Great Lakes waters needed to operate their vessels safely.

The unfamiliarity with local water conditions could result in a nightmare of shipping calamities, according to U.S. and Canadian maritime officials. For them, pilots are the an-

HE POINTS to a voyage which started at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River, dropping cargo at Toledo, going to Duluth to load a cargo of grain with a total cost for pilot's fees

GETTING DOWN to bread and butter terms, what is at stake is an estimated $138.9 million in income for Michigan, $200 million for Illinois which is generated by trade brought in by the St. Lawrence Seaway

As far as jobs are concerned, statistics show that 85,710 families in the Great Lakes region are dependent on the Seaway for their livelihood.

Adding to the chorus of complaints about high pilotage fees is Captain John Aspin, director of marine operations for the Shipping Federation of Canada who said that pilotage fees have risen 166 percent in the last five years.

Aspin, who was an ocean-going master himself before joining the federation, tells of a voyage from Montreal, goes to Chicago, on to Duluth, Minn. and back to Montreal

In 1965, the pilotage fees for this vessel which carried 12,500 tons of cargo was $2,972

THIS SHOT up to $7,915 in 1970, according to Aspin, an example of why shipping costs "have sky-rocketed enorone of the big contributors to high pilotage fees, according to Aspin is the requirement of having a pilot on board while traveling through open waters.

We're not against paying a fair price for a good service," Aspin noted. Nobody can object to this,

"All the other featherbedding that's thrown in which creates discord" is what he said his members, ship owners and agents are protesting.

"Productive pilotage to which we have no objection is about 30 percent in districts two and three (the Welland Canal, Lakes Ontario, Erie, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit

"This is where the pilot's local knowledge is useful, very useful," Aspin said. "This is all in confined and restricted

HE SAID THAT 40 percent of pilotage is in open waters which he terms "nonessential" and that the remaining 30 percent is for keeping a pilot on board for fear of not getting

If a ship is not able to get a pilot, Aspin said that the resulting delay can cost as much as $3,500 to $4,000 per day. Another complaint of the shipping officials is the levying of pilotage fees against a vessel when the services are not used

When a ship captain can pass a test given by the Canadians, he can receive a special license which allows him to pilot his own vessel in certain waters.

These include Lake Huron, Superior and Michigan and several ports, one of which is Duluth.

IT HAS BECOME a common practice, according to a number of sources, for the pilots to charge ship captains who have this special license called a "B" certificate.

If the ship captain refuses to pay, then he is threatened with not getting labor to unload or load his vessel.

By WES THORP, Lansing Bureau Chief

A textbook case took place in November, 1971 when the British grain vessel Hutchcliffe Hall sailed into Duluth without a pilot.

When the ship docked in Duluth on a Saturday there was no labor to unload it. An International Longshoremen spokesman said that jobs for the ship were posted but that

According to several accounts, the Longshoremen then set up an informational picket line which the pilots, who also belong to the ILA, refused to cross.

This prevented ships coming into the Toledo harbor from getting a pilot. The U.S. Coast Guard would not grant the Review of issues

With the spiraling cost of living, meat prices included, the granting of immediate salary increases to Romulus city employes was naturally welcomed by most municipal

And it should be noted that the long wait for pay increases was not solely the fault of city hall: President Richard Nixon's wage freeze was the cause of the delay - dating back to

As stated by Councilman Edmund W. Bizek: "It is no doubt that our people are far behind the scale of area communities." And with that statement, Councilman Bizek moved that the increases be implemented immediately.

Too often, city employes find themselves last on the receiving line for pay increases even when the increase is valid and long-

We commend the city council for giving the green-light to award the "overdue" salary

On another city hall matter, a few comments should be made on council's so-called illegal ordinance that would require subdivision dwellers to plant grass in front of their homes. Though such an ordinance may be termed illegal, we can see no wrong in council's intent - nor the request for such an ordinance coming from the Meadows Subdivision.

To the more than 75 home owners who petitioned council to enact the landscaping ordinance, this newspaper commends their desire for a beautified neighborhood. As we stated, such an ordinance may not

WHEN THE FLAME of faith was first ignited, the sponsors said the flame would burn until the fighting ended and our captive men were released by the Communists. Let us hope that future generations need not set ablaze flames of faith for future wars. But in doing so, not to surrender out of fear.

Might in the defense of freedom is a must if we are to survive as a free society. Men such as Commander Anderson helped maintain that might, and the men who gave their lives in defense of freedom.

WHILE THIS nation rejoices over the return of our POWs, we must continue to pursue the issue of our men reported as

Griffin wins help

The hot dog fight

WASHINGTON-Sen. Robert P. Griffin R-Mich., has won an assurance that he will be allowed to present his case for the purity of Michigan's hot dogs, sausages, bologna and luncheon meats to a Senate agriculture subcommittee at an early hearing.

Michigan lawmakers in Congress on both the House and Senate side are fighting to enable their state to maintain standards for prepared meats considerably higher than the legal federal standards

THE PROMISE GRIFFIN extracted from Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., represents a significant first step in getting full congressional consideration of this issue. In a discussion on the Senate floor with

Allen, Griffin said he already had introduced a bill on the subject. Allen told Griffin: "We have had a number of controversial bills before our subcommittee, and certainly we would not refrain from holding committee hearings on this one. Griffin explained the background of the issue to his colleagues. For the past 20 years Michigan has permitted only skeletal meat to be used in prepared meat products, and these products also are required to have at least a 12 per cent protein content. SUCH PRODUCTS as hot dogs and sausages in, Michigan do not contain such animal byproducts as snouts, lips, spleens, udders, salivary glands, stomachs and other By contract those things can be included in prepared meat products under terms of a 1967 lederal statute which contains no minimum protein requirement. The U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals last fall ruled that Michigan's higher ingredient standards had been pre-empted by the provisions of the weaker federal law. The case now is on its way to the Supreme Court.

GRIFFIN MAINTAINED when Congress enacted the 1967 act it did not intend to wipe out stricter standards some states, including Michigan, already had established by law. If Congress' intent is not clear, Griffin said, then his bill should be enacted to remove all uncertainty 'This has become a very important issue in my state of Michigan," Griffin said

Romulus Chamber Chatter

By DOLORES RISTOW Executive Board Director Romulus Chamber of Commerce

The Board of Directors of the Romulus-Metro International Airport Chamber of Commerce have been checking into the Romulus problems concerning the businessman and resident

At the Chamber's recent three-series meeting, which was open to the public, Board members were made aware of many issues of concern to the Chamber members, business establishments in general, and the residential community of Romulus.

Proposed airport expansion in Romulus, unused liquor licenses, road problems, proper identity of the city of Romulus, education, youth activities, and city government which included: zoning, planning, police and fire protection, and the possibility of getting a Central Business District located on Goddard Road were some of the major issues being presented to the Board for consideration in the Chamber's 1973 program. The following are the concerns and their status that the Chamber has already started to look into:

1.) February 20, 1973 made a study of the newly instituted "Theft Guard" program in the field of safety and protection here in Romulus and subsequently donated $50 toward its expansion.

2.) February 28, 1973 asked the Romulus City Council and the D.P.W. Director for an explanation on why the road and street problems here in Romulus continue to be a sore spot with both the business and residential people of the community.

Chamber has received no answer from

Council or D.P.W. as of yet.
3.) February 28, 1973 asked the Romulus

City Council to inform the Chamber as to why more of the "Class C" liquor licenses allocated almost 18 months ago have not been put to use with a request for their reply by March 12, 1973. Chamber is still without an answer from 4.) March 12, 1973 Chamber considered increasing the established liaison they've had with City Hall since August 1972 by having one or more members of the Chamber present at all public hearings held by the Planning Commission in order to keep abreast of Chamber-related matters on zoning and development.

5.) March 15, 1973 Chamber Executive Director Ristow appeared before Council requesting an ordinance be enacted that would govern and control the current indiscriminate solicitations - in person, door to door, by mail, and-or telephone in Romulus.

At present, the Chamber has not received acknowledgement that this ordinance has been adopted.

6.) March 19, 1973 four of the Executive Board Directors of the Romulus Chamber of Commerce, along with City and School Officials of Romulus, attended a meeting that the Wayne County Road Commission and Metro Airport Officials held for the purpose of creating a better understanding on airport expansion now and in the future.

There are possibilities of a continuing "task force" being developed from this meeting that will carry on a line of communication between all concerned.

7.) March 26, 1973 made available a "Certificate of Origin" to members of the Chamber on a no-fee basis and a regulated fee for non-members. Currently on the agenda are: finalizing plans for the scheduled general membership luncheon meeting Wednesday, April 25, 1973, plus ways and means to create better communications to the Chamber members and the general public on all Chamber activities, functions, and programs

Inkster resident promoted

National Bank of Detroit (NBD) recently announced the promotion of Lena M. Peters to branch manager of the bank's Eureka-Wahrman office in Romulus.

A resident of Inkster, Mrs. Peters takes on the new position after serving three years as senior assistant manager of NBD's Inkster Office.

"I believe that good banking means participation in community affairs," Mrs. Peters said. "If I can show the community that I am truly interested in them and their problems, they'll come to me when they need the kind of help that a bank can give HOWEVER, Mrs. Peters' community involvement extends far beyond that which automatically goes with her position. She is involved with her community because she is a good citizen.

She is an active member of the Westwood School District World of Work Advisory Committee, is on the Board of Directors of the King-Kennedy Boy's Club, and is a member of the NAACP. She is also a member of Gamma Pi Epsilon (a national Jesuit Honor Society) and Holy Family Roman Catholic Church.

Along with these many activities Mrs. Peters still finds time to attend school. She is enrolled in the American Institute of Banking and is a senior at the University of Detroit, majoring in finance.

All of this makes for a hectic schedule at times but the 9year NBD employe says she "enjoys every minute of it." She is married to James Peters and has one son, Jarry

The bill cleared the House easily, then went through the senate by a unanimous vote. The House accepted some minor senate amendments and enrolled the bill.

Under a law passed last year, camping tents used in public parks would have to be fire-resistant after April 1 of this year. It wasn't until that bill became law that protests began to mount from outdoor lovers who had been led to believe that they would not be able to tent in state campgrounds unless they had

Linda Allion is April bride of Gary Munger

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved Saturday, April 7, for the double ring ceremony which united Linda Allion and Gary L. Munger in holy matrimony The six thirty nuptials were read by the Rev. Charles Dibley before some 135 assembled guests. For the occasion, Mrs. Gwen Ashe was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections. John Jabro sang "The Wedding Song" as he accompanied himself on the guitar. Floral decor for the service included an arrangement of white and yellow gladiolas and mums on the altar with side fans of the same blooms.

MR. AND MRS. Lee D. Allion of 13143 Edgedale Drive, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Munger of Richfield Road, Davison, are parents of the young couple.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, Linda appeared in a toe-touching creation of eggshell white Cluny lace designed with a high lace collar and a little fitted bodice with tiny rows of beading on the illusion yoke. Her full bishop sleeves were cuffed at the wrist and her full, A-line skirt cascaded into a chapel train as she walked.

Her elbow-length illusion veil was secured by a Camelot cap in matching Cluny lace and her colonial bouquet was comprised of white sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley, miniature carnations, German statice, and white star

Marilyn Bara of Ypsilanti was asked to be honor attendant and Joan Vicary of Leslie and Susan Jabro of Lincoln Park, the bridesmaids. The trio donned identical double-knit gowns of coral and yellow on a beige background with matching bow headpieces and carried off-white wicker umbrella frames filled with coral and yellow daisies and star flowers.

EARL HOWETT came from Los Angeles, California to serve as best man at the wedding. The corps of ushers included Claude Edwards from Otisville; and Greg Allion, Dennis Allion and Bruce Munger, all of Belleville.

At the reception, which followed in Carpenter's Local No. 512 in Ypsilanti, guests were greeted by Mrs. Allion in a floorlength coral gown with decorative trim at the waist, neckline and sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore a deep coral gown in formal length with harmonizing accessories. Both were presented with corsages of sweetheart roses.

leaving for a week-long honeymoon in Daytona, Florida, the new Mrs. Munger changed to a powder blue knit pant suit. On their return the newlyweds will take up residence at 485 Wayside Drive, Belleville.

A graduate of Belleville High School, Linda attended Michigan State University and is employed at Distron Corporation, Romulus. Her husband was graduated from Davison High and the Devry Electronics Institute in Chicago, Illinois. He served as company commander with the U.S. Army in Europe for two years and is now with Distron Corporation of Romulus.

The bridegroom's parents entertained at the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Flaming Pit in Ann Arbor.

The national chairman of the American Party, Thomas Anderson, will be the guest of the American Independent Party (AIP) at a fund-raising dinner at the Ramada Inn, 8270

Wick Rd., Romulus, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Anderson, who ran as the vice presidential candidate of the American Party is a publisher, syndicated columnist, radio commentator and popular public speaker.

Anderson has for many years owned Southern Farm Publications in Nashville, and has been the editor of The American Way Features, Inc., a 35-year-old syndicate serving newspapers nationwide with weekly columns, cartoons and editorials.

"Unquestionably," Mrs. Josephine Chapman Wayne County Chairman of the American Independent Party and a Belleville area resident, said, "Tom Anderson is one of the most popular conservatives in America.'

Mrs. Chapman stated that he has been described by the former dean of Notre Dame Law School thusly, "No writer in America can take the padding out of a stuffed political shirt any faster or more effectively than Tom Anderson

Anderson was elected national chairman of AIP at the national central committee meeting held in Dallas, Tex., in early December, 1972.

"It is the objective of Tom Anderson as chairman of the National American Party to bring a new balance in the political life of America, to substantially stand behind principle and constitutional government and create a better understanding of the American Way of Life," Mrs. Chapman said. She stated that she plans an "overwhelmingly" reception for Anderson here in Michigan

She said that indications are that the Third Party Movement (which recently endorsed the two cent tax repeal petition drive for which the AIP obtained half the signatures) seems to be the answer to the disgruntled needs of the average tax paying American.

Mrs. Chapman is optimistic that in spite of the hard work ahead that the AIP has become the only formidable opponent nationwide to the growing tendency of a one party govern-

Depending upon passage of bond issue and student influx - next year's plan will have to be decided upon when board has more information on what will be needed next year. Home interiors replace car status symbol in 1970s automobile as the status symbol of the surging seventies.

It's an era of and for self expression, and women married and single - have chosen that most personal of all environments, the home, as one of their primary means of self expression.

Home owners or apartment dwellers, they are in the process of creating the most colorful revolution ever to hit the home furnishings and decorating products industries.

Color revolution in the home. Color revolution in the market place. A seeking of quality, of originality, with the kind of flair that speaks visibly of the personal touch.

TODAY'S woman isn't satisfied to be a mere bystander, accepting preplanned, pre-packaged in-terior decor. She wants something that's not for something everybody 'that's just for me."

She has discovered the fun associated with this personal form of self expression. She knows the joy of creating for herself and for those around her an environment that is clearly an expression of her personality. While "express yourself decorating" isn't necessarily "do-it-yourself decorating, more women are taking an active role in all phases of interior decorating in their homes. They have discovered the great personal satisfaction gained from laying their own tile, making slipcovers, hanging wallcoverings, or painting a table

The important factor is that it's their ideas - their personalities — they're ex-pressing; ideas that are

RECOGNIZING woman's need for self expression through interior decor, the National Decorating Products Association and cooperating local decorating products centers are making available during April a free 32-page, full-color booklet that's jammed with ideas that range from the big splash of supergraphics to the small, delicate decor that can be accomplished with nothing more than a stencil and a paint brush.

The free booklet features the latest colors, styles and patterns in decorating products in celebration of National Home Decorating Month, a nation-wide consumer program developed by the National Decorating Products Association to boost interest in home decor.

Other ideas presented in the booklet include ways to refurbish old furniture, how to accessorize empty corners, and how to create interesting ceilings with wallcoverings.

Designed specifically to aid the woman in seeking out and employing ideas that have relevance to her home and life style, the booklet shows ways create impressive decorating effects at a surprisingly low cost and with a minimum of effort.

The draft of a development

Wayne County communities are much too optimistic in their plans for industrial development - a fact that could result in costly governmental mistakes.

That is a major conclusion of a report which urges that the county and local governments cooperate in preparing a "development strategy" to avoid such mistakes and to improve the quality of life in the nation's third most populous county.

In the 50-page report, the Wayne County Planning Commission proposes a tentative plan to guide local and county policy makers in making key decisions involving use of space and natural and financial resources.

THE COUNTY planners will meet with local officials throughout the county to get reactions suggestions. The development strategy emerging from that process will be submitted to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for its consideration.

The report states that the county planning commission supports local planning,' while hoping that "jointly the county and local governments can agree on a strategy that will improve the opportunity for all our people to improve their quality of life."

County Planning Director Francis P. Bennett said there is an element of urgency behind the proposal that all governmental units cooperate in developing a countywide policy," he said. "We believe legislation will be passed at both levels. We in Wayne County will be better off if we get a headstart and work things out through cooperation than if we have to operate under pressure of a deadline."

The need for an over-all plan, developed cooperatively, is illustrated by the fact that the total amount of land anticipated for industrial use in local master plans far exceeds expected future industrial needs, according to the report.

"We are saying that these are the facts of the aggregation of your master plans," Bennett explained. We are not saying which of you is not going to achieve them, but we are saying that not all are going to achieve them. And if you overbuild, a whole lot of money will be wasted."

Thirty-seven of the 43 local communities in Wayne County have their own master plans, according to the report

A total of 38.2 square miles of land now is occupied by industry in the county.

In aggregate, the local master plans call for a total of 108.1 square miles of land for industry by 1990.

Assuming the present proportion of industrial employment continues, only 70 square miles of industrial land would be needed even if all local communities attain their projected ultimate populations.

Actually industrial employment has decreased

"THUS, THERE is an land in unproductive idleness, imbalance - the local communities are calling for more than 32 square miles more are ignored." industrial land than would be needed to accomodate their combined industrial employment at the present ratio," the report states.

"This area - nearly equal to an entire township - is to be provided with all the services required for industrial development. Will this vast capital expenditure be wasted?"

Of the 2,666,700 people in Wayne County, there were approximately 364,500 industrial employees or about 14 per cent in 1971. If this proportion continues in the future, the projected 1990 population of 4,760,000 would produce about 640,000 industrial employees, the report estimates.

The aggregate local master plans call for an increase in residential land from the present 202.3 square miles to 232.5 and a decrease in commercial use from 22.5 to 22.2 square miles. In addition, the master plans project a decrease in other uses from the present 360 to 260.2 square miles. These other uses, lumped together as "balances of uses," include recreation, education, open space, agriculture, transportation, utilities, rights-of-way and vacant.

"INTERPRETING these figures on the county-wide basis demonstrates the likelihood of frustrated aspirations on the part of local communities and of wasted public investments both by them and by the county," the report states, adding:

'They mean that an 80 per cent increase of population would be squeezed into only 15 per cent more residential land; they would use one per cent less land for commercial activity and 26 per cent less land for the whole range of services such as recreation, education, open space, etc. "On the other hand, 183 per cent more land would be used for industrial purposes ... It is clear that the realization of the interdependence among the several local communities that make up the county has not been built into local planning efforts."

THE FACT THAT local master plans call for nearly twice as much industrial land as is likely to be used "is probably the result of the effort by each community to bolster its tax base in what the community assumes to be an Bennett said both Gov. William G. Milliken and the Democrats in the Legislature are expected to propose state land use legislation which would require the kind of process proposed in the planning commission report.

He said the proposed legislation may designate counties as the implementing agencies.

"THE LAW that is likely to come out of Congress will require of states what the governor and the Democrats are talking about doing," he said. "It is likely to provide for withholding of federal high-way and aviation funds for failure to comply and could also involve Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Interior funds, as well.

"We are doing this before state and federal legislation is passed because it is necessary for sound planning."

Bennett said the planning commission would ask for meetings with local planning commissions and elected officials to discuss the proposed development strategy and solicit their suggestions.

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Many church hymns, as everybody knows, stress the im portance of prayer. Take for example, the popular hymn: "What a Friend we have in Jesus". People often sing it, hum it at home and elsewhere. Yet we wonder how often the basic thought of "Take it to the Lord in prayer" is acted upon. Remember the message of the song? A privilege to carry everything to God in prayer? How we forfeit peace, bear needless pain through lack of prayer? How we have trials and temptations, have troubles here and there? How we become discouraged, need some one to share our sorrows? How we have weaknesses and God knows about them? How we are heavy laden, have loads of cares? How friends forsake us but God will

In all these true to life situations, is it not strange the certainty of help through prayer is so often ignored or forgotten? Can you toll from Belleville High's baseball team and the loss of several players could cost veteran Coach Vitold Kaminskis and the Tigers a shot at the Suburban 8 Conference championship. Kaminskis, who is beginning his 25th year as the Tigers head coach, will have to find replacements for infielder Rick White, outfielders Les Crawford and Mark Robson who decided to graduate last January. But the Tiger coach feels his beggest setback was in the loss of Kevin Bara, an All-moved to Ypsilanti. Kevin's two older brothers also were outstanding athletes at Belleville.

"The loss of Kevin means we're going to have to juggle some of our personnel around," said Kaminskis, whose Tigers launched the season last night at Redford

"We're going to move a couple of players around to patch up the hole," he added, and the loss of the Bara boy means we're losing a pretty good hitter in our lineup. Belleville has a few reliable players back from last year's team that battled right up to the end for the Suburban 8 Conference title before losing the full-time catching job and also fill in the outfield when Kaminskis is looking at three seniors who could solve his pitching problems. Seeking to make the starting rotation are Jerry Cole, Al Cicotte and Mike Pitt. One will have to fill the shoes of Vern Gowen, an All-Area hurler, whose arm was the key to the Tigers' title drive last year.

The Tiger mentor is comtemplating on moving regular third baseman Tim Vance from that position to short stop, to fill the gap left by Bara. Then Larry Farr, coming off a hockey injury will be at second base and Bob Johnson, an outfielder, may fill in part-time at first.

"Our infield, aside from the obvious question mark at short, appears to be settled. But the outfield and the ptiching are definitely big question marks," the Tiger coach said.

There are a few sophomores who are looking for starting assignments and leading the candidates are David Datsi, a sophomore catcheroutfielder; Gary Adkins, a junior outfielder and Robin Hook, an infielder.

"We're inexperienced," said Kaminskis, "but we should be able to win our share of the games this year.'

Kaminskis feels that Redford Union, the defending champ, will again be the kingpin, but Edsel Ford, which did so well in state competition last year is the one to beat for the championship.

Belleville will begin its home phase of the 1973 season today at 4 p.m. when it hosts area rival, Romulus. The game is a nonleaguer.

Despite opposition from the weatherman, Cherry Hill opened up the 1973 baseball season yesterday with a 4-3 victory over nonleague rival Romulus

Ken Wassus, a 6-6 southpaw hurler, stepped in to relieve starter John Squire in the top of the fifth and whipped six of the nine batters he faced to chalk up the opening game victory.

The victory also made Dick McNally's debut as head Spartan baseball coach a winning one.

"It was cold," said Mc-Nally, "but the ground conditions were surprisingly good. I'm glad we got this game in. It will help us prepare for Glenn.

Flat Rock rips Huron in opener

Three Huron pitchers gave up four hits but were unable to stop Flat Rock, the defending conference champ Friday as the New Boston ball club was shut out 8-0 in their season

It was the first time Coach Rop Smith's hurlers had a chance to work on the mound this season. The Huron diamond has been submerged under water. Jamie Hinojosa started for the Chiefs and went four innings before he complained about a back ailment. He was relieved by Ken DeLano who inherited a 4-0 deficit. Flat Rock got to the reliever for four runs on one hit and two errors before Smith called in Gary Whitehouse who finished up, facing the last four batters. "I was satisfied with our pitching and catcher Dana Kemp had a tremendous day, but we only got four hits. We will have to improve in Kemp launched the season with a perfect 3 for 3 at the plate. The only other hit off of winning pitcher Gary Simpson was by Hinojosa who doubled in the first inning.

Simpson fanned nine and walked one.

'The lack of facilities definitely hurts us," said Smith, "we haven't been able to get in a practice on our field.

"This was the first time our pitchers had the use of a mound and I feel they did a good job. They gave up four hits, but two of those were bloop singles and only one was solidly hit.'

Flat Rock scored one run in the first inning, picked up two more in the third, then added one in the fourth and exploded for four in the fifth.

Track isn't a one-man coaching job

By TOM MOORADIAN

There are some jobs that one man can do better than two, despite what some boards of education may think, coaching a high school track team doesn't fall in that

When a coach is confronted with 15 track events, each demanding separate skills, then the more help he can get to train the athlete, the better off the athlete and the team.

And this subject popped up the other night when Livonia Franklin head track coach, the school's only track coach, checked in with his second setback of the young season.

This was an unusual "happening" for Holmes who, last year went undefeated and was this newspapers' Coach of the

What has happened to the Patriots? The answer isn't a simple one-it is, in the coach's opinion, the result of trying to coach a couple of scores of young

"I have to admit that coaching the track team by myself is just a little too much," said Holmes, who lost his assistant a couple of years ago during a squeeze on the school district's

"Last year I managed to get through because we had a nucleus of seniors who had plenty of experience behind them.

"However, time has caught up to us. We don't know if we should devote more time to the sophomores or concentrate on the seniors and this is causing problems.

"Coaching track is one of the most challenging sports there is, especially when you can see the results. But the spectrum of track events - from pole vaulting to running to hurdles -

"And it's pretty tough on one individual," Holmes pointed

To compound the Franklin Coach's problems the track is undergoing extensive repairs. For the past two years the Patriots have had to meet their rivals in "away" meets.

"The track is in bad shape and in dire need of im-provements," said Holmes, "however, everything has been put in motion. These improvements will be made so that the track will be put in use again next year.

"Meanwhile, we're just going to have to do the best we can.

Well, coach, it looks like it's going to take a long long time before the Patriots and Coach Holmes have another one of those "undefeated" and Northwest Suburban Conference

Before the 1973 track season gets any older we'd like to ask each and every area track coach to check in with the surname and also the name of all athletes who win events.

Some of the coaches have only last names, especially when they meet a team out of this area. We feel we should give all the athletes who win events at least that much recognition, so first and last names, please.

It appears now that the weatherman refuses to cooperate with the local sports teams as inclement weather continues to plague the spring sports schedule. Before we get any deeper into the track season though, let it be known that John Glenn assistant track coach Jerry Szukaitis will be back on the job compiling the weekly track listing, a job he commendably handled last season.

On sports and some sportsmen

> By JIM FREER Sports Writer

Two years ago I shared many assignments with a fellow sports writer who frequently bemoaned the fact that his job wasn't "meaningful enough.

This particular guy was a sports nut of the first order but he also held the notion that he wasn't doing enough to help the

"I could have easily become a teacher or made an effort to go into some other field," he told me on several occasions. He said he justified sports writing in his own mind because in it he "provided a service in supplying people with information about events in which they're interested.

This altruistic journalist held a goal which has been shared by numerous young people from time immemorial-that of saving the world.

Whether it's fortunate or unfortunate, I've never been one who felt the spirit of that impossible dream.

I've known many of my contemporaries who talked of saving the world all through their college years, only to go out into society and find out that the world wasn't interested in being saved on their terms,

Some may call this outlook of mine a callous one. But I prefer to look at it as being realistic and, because of this, I've never had to justify my occupation to myself or to others.

In my case it would be hard to find a field that would prove more enjoyable than sportswriting, and if someone in the occupation seeks a feeling of fulfillment he could find it in the fact that he's associated with athletics.

Youth sports programs have always served as a cornerstone for our nation's society and I sincerely feel that anyone who helps in fostering such programs is performing a valuable service.

The utmost service in this area is provided by the people who coach young athletes. Scores of thousands of American men can point back to high school coaches who influenced their lives and the work of these coaches is more important today than ever before.

Today's high school students are confronted by more "wrong paths" than their predecessors and the goal of keeping a boy or girl in sports and out of trouble is one that should not be shortchanged by our educators. The above discourse was prompted by the fact that I'll be leaving Associated at the end of this week for a sportswriting job in Willingboro, New Jersey, a suburb of

Before going I feel compelled to thank all of the area coaches for their cooperation throughout the past year. It would be impossible to thank them all personally, but I hope that these words will express my appreciation for the important work that they perform. The relationship between Associated and the coaches in the area is unique. You'll often find long-running feuds between sports writers and coaches, but that isn't the case here and I think the existence of this good will can be primarily attributed to one man — Tom Mooradian.

In working under Tom for the past year I've developed a tremendous appreciation for his talents and for the effort

Tom takes great pride in The Eagle's sports pages and I think this pride shows up in the end product. It can also be said that few people devote more time to their work than Tom

Farmers hire rainmaker --satisfied with results

LANSING - Rainmaking is not a funny Indian clutching a rug and dancing about a fire to invoke vertical irrigation on the parched lands below.

Agricultural economics is much more than in central Michigan.

GRATIOT County's board of commissioners, with a fivefarmer majority, at first approved a $25,000 rainmaking contract with Krick Associates, of Palm Springs, Calif., early last March.

But Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled than an 1851 state law which allowed counties to spend money to promote the agricultural economy did not cover rainmaking.

So the farmers of mid-Michigan went ahead with private money and the contract and it worked.

Post card mistake traced

The recent post card mail distribution to residents of the Belle Villa Mobile Home Estates on the belief the mobile home complex was located in the township was not the work of township administrative personnel, but was a mistake on the part of an area resident who was commissioned by the township.

The area resident, Mrs. Lily Burger, operates her own private mailing lists used in the post card distribution.

The post card requested the residents to be sure to list their official place of residence on income tax forms this year.

THE FEDERAL income tax forms include a section where such data is to be listed by the taxpayer and which will be used to determine the amount of federal revenue-sharing funds alloted to governmental units throughout the country The funds are based on population.

When the post card mailing came to the attention of the Belleville City Council, Mayor Royce E. Smith reported that council members were irked by the mail distribution as the mobile home complex is located in the City of Belleville and not the township.

The post card mailing was done by Mrs. Lily Burger of 6111 Sheldon Rd., Belleville, who operates her own private mailing lists. The township had requested her to handle the mail distribution in February, Mrs. Burger said:

'The mailing of the post cards to the Belle Villa Mobile Home Estates was a mistake on my part. I thought it was inthe township. An annexation on the part of the city of part of the acreage in the area caused street cutoffs as to mail distribution

MRS. BURGER reported that she has corrected the situation and promised that it would not happen again.

Mrs. Patricia Cullin, township clerk, whose name appeared on the post cards, said the mishap was the result of an honest error and not skulduggery on the part of anybody in Michigan accidents set a new all-time first quarter traffic death mark of 505, according to State Police traffic division provisional figures.

The division expects the quarter count to reach about 510 when all delayed death reports are in.

the same period in 1972. March accidents contributed 162 deaths to the first quarter count, which was seven more than 155 recorded for that month last year.

The March toll also was one more than the average of 161 for the five years, 1968-72. High March was 179 in 1966 while low for that month was 75 in 1933, the year when traffic record keeping began.

SUPPLEMENT TO ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS, INC.

Another small car? Aren't there enough on the market already?

Yes and no. Yes, there are small cars of many makes and models running around. No, there isn't the kind of small car that Buick thinks America needs.

A small car has small-car hangups.

The biggest argument for small cars seems to be that . . . well, they're small. They cost less to buy. They cost less to operate. They're easy to drive. And they're fun to drive.

Getting around in a small car isn't always easy.

But there are a number of situations in which a number of small cars are ill at ease.

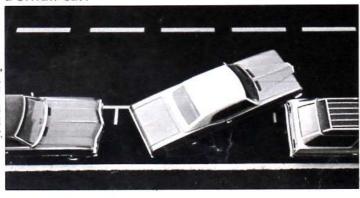

Like on expressways. Or on bumpy roads. Or with a family inside.

A big car has big-car hangups. The biggest argument for big cars seems to be that they take good care of you. They offer performance, roominess, and riding comfort.

But a big car can be a handful when you're trying to maneuver and park on small streets or in big traffic. And a big car costs more, both to buy and to operate.

The plan, then, was to combine the advantages of a big car with the advantages of a small car.

Ah, the joys of driving a big car.

Introducing Apollo by Buick. Now, about the body. Let's face it. Apollo's basic body configuration is something you've seen before.

But Buick has taken that same basic shell and transformed it into Apollo—a small car that offers the kind of prestige, performance and creature comforts you'd expect of a larger car. There's a high level of interior and exterior trim available. And there's abundant acoustical insulation.

Sports car lovers will find the ride too soft.

Which is just fine. Because we designed Apollo for comfort, not for competition.

Performs beautifully even though the road is rough.

And we did it with coil springs up front, multi-leaf springs in the rear—each selected by a computer according to the way each Apollo is equipped.

This is one small car that knows how to keep quiet. In all Apollo models, sound deadeners are applied to the roof panel, under front and rear seat floors, to the door outer panels, wheelhouses, and the passenger compartment floor.

There's insulation below and behind the instrument panel.

With available V-8 engines, a full fiberglass hood blanket is included. And to help isolate noise and vibrations, rubber isolation mounts are used between the body and the frame.

When all is said and done, Apollo simply doesn't sound like a small car.

Perhaps the most impressive asset is inside.

Thick carpeting is standard. So is an instrument panel with wood-grain vinyl accents.

Custom interior available.

So are front and rear armrests and ashtrays.

The full-foam seats are very un-small-car. They're big, thick and comfortable—with room for legs, hips and shoulders.

Why Apollo weighs 450 pounds more than a lesser compact. When ordered the way we suggest, Apollo weighs more because Apollo comes with more. Standard equipment includes that rather imposing bumper system with full-width steel reinforcement.

Large E78 x 14 tires.

And all that insulation.

Then there are Apollo's available and eminently desirable V-8 engines and Turbo Hydra-matic transmission.

It isn't a typical compact not when you add a Buick V-8.

There are V-8s and there are Buick V-8s. A rather important distinction.

Because Buick V-8 engines offer features like nickel-plated exhaust valves, semi-closed cooling systems, time-modulated chokes and so on and so forth.

It's really not important that you understand all the equipment.

Just so you understand that a

Buick V-8 is a rather special way to power a car.

And that the 350-cubic-inch V-8s that go into Apollos are the same engines that go into our most expensive Century models.

There are two Buick V-8s available for Apollo—and either one can handle both city streets and highways.

Naturally, Apollo is available in a hatchback.

Which is a beautiful way to make an already "big"

small car even bigger.

Because with the hatchback up and the back seat down, Apollo takes on a lot of cargo-carrying ability.

The cargo area is over six fully carpeted feet long—with a whopping 27-cubicfoot capacity. Not bad for a small car.

Of course, if you're not inclined to carry Christmas trees or carpets in your Apollo, you can always choose either a 2-door Coupe or a 4-door Sedan version.

You'll still have plenty of room for people because Apollo's interiors are deceptively roomy.

Apollo may be a small car, but it's hard to tell

If you have about 3,200 dollars to spend for a car, read on. At first thought, the idea of spending more than 3,000 dollars for a typical small car might sound a bit steep. But then, we're not talking about a typical small car, are we?

Let's say you have 3,200 dollars to spend.

Your money will get you an Apollo 2-door Coupe with the following recommended equipment: Buick 350 cubic-inch V-8 (2-bbl. carb.) • Turbo Hydra-matic 350 Transmission • Variable Ratio Power Steering

• E78 x 14 Whitewall Bias Ply Tires • Deluxe Wheel Covers • Bumper Protective Strips (Front and Rear)

Protective Body Side Moldings.

Of course there are plenty of additional items you can specify, but the combination suggested

And at that price, with that much equipment, Apollo is about as much small car as you're going to find on the market today.

Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the Apollo 2-door Coupe includes dealer new vehicle preparation charge and the equipment listed above. Other options, destination charge, state and local taxes are additional.
